Stiff Note Delivered To Czech Reds After Soldiers Are Kidnaped

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has served Red Czechoslovakia with a demand for the "immediate return" of seven U. S. soldiers who this government charged were kidnaped Sunday.

The State Department disclosed last night that an exceptionally stiff note was delivered to the Czech foreign office in Prague yesterday.

That note dismissed as unfounded Czech claims that the seven, a captain and six enlisted men, were spying when they were seized by a Czech border patrol near the West German town of Baernau.

But a few hours after the U. S. note was handed to Czech diplomatic officials, the Communist satellite government repeated its espionage charge in a Prague radio broadcast heard in Vienna.

The U. S. note, protesting "in the strongest terms this abduction of American soldiers," said the Americans "were proceeding innocently without arms along the Czech-German border when seized by a Czech patrol."

THE ARMY withheld public identification of the soldiers pending notification of next of kin but the Czechoslovak news agency Ceteka, contacted by telephone in Prague today from Vienna, named them as Capt. Jack Davis, Pvt. Richard Jumper, Pfc. Leonard Tennis, Cpl. John Glasson, Pvt. Ross McGinnis, Pfc. George Switzer and Pfc. Jerry Griffith. Ceteka could give no home addresses.

Army spokesmen in Germany have said the soldiers were on leave and may have crossed the Czech border by mistake while sightseeing.

However the Czech reply note to the United States as read over the Prague radio insisted that "their confession and behavior confirm the group entered Czech territory to conduct an espionage mission."

The Czech note said further the soldiers confessed that they entered Czech territory by illegal means and that films found on them revealed that they had photographed objects on Czechoslovak soil.

The Prague broadcast said the Americans were arrested after trying to elude the border guards.

Defendant Shows Toothless Alibi

BOSTON (AP)—Isaac Trinkham, 51, presented a strong defense in Municipal Court yesterday when accused of having bitten the left thumb of George McPhee so severely that hospital treatment was required.

"How would I bite anybody?" Trinkham asked Judge Jennie L. Barron, and opened his mouth to expose toothless gums.

The court continued the case.

That fountain and pool on the lawn at W. M. Campbell's home corner of East and South Fayette Street, is a popular place for birds. In fact it is one of the few up-town drinking places available for the birds, and they make frequent use of it.

Recently three pigeons alighted near the edge of the concrete pool to obtain a drink.

They had been preceded by a half dozen sparrows and one robin, all of whom wished to quench their thirst.

The sparrows hopped up to the edge of the pool, and took their time to obtaining water.

The robin also was not backward about drinking without delay.

But the pigeons saw their reflections in the water, and hesitated to obtain a drink.

Finally one pigeon mustered up courage sufficiently to ease up to the edge of the pool, hesitate a few moments as he studied his reflection in the water, then he plunged his beak into the water up to his eyes, took a big swallow and as he came up for air, there was that "other pigeon" in the water and he took wing instantly in half fright and flew away.

The other two took turns, and they also appeared to be frightened at the image in the pool after a quick, deep drink, and flew away hurriedly.

$10,000 Reward Is Offered In Bay Village Murder Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard from his hospital bed today said he and his family were offering "a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of my wife."

The osteopath's statement was made as county officials started questioning him about the slaying of his attractive 31-year-old wife.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber wrote out a subpoena to the doctor when his attorney balked at immediate quizzing.

After that the doctor's counsel permitted officials to start asking their questions at the bedside.

County Detective Carl Rossbach, who is assisting Dr. Gerber, said: "I do not want to take advantage of a man confined to a bed, but it has been five days now since this crime was committed and we still haven't been able to talk with Dr. Sheppard except briefly shortly after the murder."

The 30-year-old physician has been confined to a suburban hospital, operated by his father, since his wife, Marilyn, was found hacked to death in her bed Sunday.

In his brief talk with investigating officers, he gave only a vague account of the murder. He said his injuries were suffered in battling with his wife's assailant.

Assistant County Prosecutor John J. Mahon said the probe has "bogged down" because of "stalling by the Sheppard family."

"We're not going to stand for it any longer," the official added.

Both Rossbach and the coroner pointed out that although they were unable to talk with Dr. Sheppard, he attended his wife's funeral yesterday and later had a string of visitors at the hospital. These included reporters and photographers, Otto Graham, professional football star for the Cleveland Browns, and two attorneys assisting the Sheppard family.

Dr. Sheppard was wheeled into the white marble-walled chapel at Knollwood Mausoleum yesterday to sit before his wife's casket.

He wore a leather and metal brace on his neck and appeared weak and shaken as he heard the Rev. Alfred C. Kreke, Methodist pastor, intone the rites.

After the funeral, Dr. Sheppard was returned to Bay View Hospital, where he was taken shortly after he reported his wife's murder. He said "I will cooperate with the investigation in every way."

But he added he felt "awful" and "my doctors tell me that I'm not in shape yet."

Knowland himself has been cooling on his proposal to give advance notice of American withdrawal. George's opposition indicated the Republican leader would lack the necessary Democratic votes to get it approved in a closely divided Senate.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said the proposal won't be offered.

Eisenhower told a White House news conference yesterday he is "completely and unalterably opposed under the present situation to the admission of Red China into the United Nations."

The White House gave added emphasis to his remarks by authorizing direct quotation, ordinarily not permitted.

Eisenhower added, however, that if American opposition should be overridden "the question of whether we would accomplish more good in the world, whether we could advance the cause of peace and decency better by going out than staying in—that is something that would have to be decided."

He said he doubted that any plan for automatic U. S. withdrawal was being seriously considered in Congress.

Knowland interpreted this as a sign that the President wants no advance commitments. He indicated he will bow to Eisenhower's judgment. But he predicted that if the Peiping government is seated, Congress would act swiftly to take the United States out of the U. N.

Dulles Is Confident UN Ban Faces Red China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States would use its veto, if necessary, to keep Red China out of the U. N. Security Council.

Dulles expressed complete confidence the Red China regime would be unable to gain admittance at the fall session to any of the principal U. N. organizations, including the assembly.

At a news conference, Dulles denounced the Peiping regime for flouting the United Nations in Korea, supporting the Communists in Indochina and generally failing to fulfill international obligations.

Dulles said firmly, in answer to questions, he did not believe there would be any occasion for the United States to withdraw from the United Nations if Red China is admitted, as Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) has proposed.

Talk of pulling out of the United Nations, he said, strikes a note of defeatism which is entirely unjustified because the United States and like-minded countries have a powerful case for blocking Red China's membership.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower appeared to have warded off action to put Congress on record with formal notice of American withdrawal from the U. N. if Red China is admitted.

Sen. George of Georgia, senior Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he does not now expect such a proposal to be offered. If one is, he said, he will oppose it because any such move "might deprive us of freedom of action at a critical time."

He said he "fully agrees" with Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, that this country must do everything possible to keep the Chinese Communists out of the U. N. But he said he doesn't know about the suitcase Gertrude was in when she disappeared from the car, there in front of the hotel?

No trace of the suitcase. The cops reason like this:

A sneak thief who specialized in hooking bags out of cars usually heads for the nearest alley. He opens his prize quick as he can, to see what he's got.

You think a guy who finds himself with 10 feet of snake on his hands is going to transfer it to a crate and cart it out to a rock quarry to ditch it?

Sorry, Harry, no Gertrude.

The only reason Albacker got from his reward offer was a telegram which read:

"Hubby spotted your snake in back yard. He dashed out, aimed with an ax, began swinging. Kindly forward $12.95 for new garden hose."

That didn't satisfy police.

Puerto Rican Terrorists Get Stiff Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Rican terrorists who shot up the House of Representatives March 1 and wounded five of its members today were given maximum prison sentences ranging up to 75 years.

A fiery brunette, Lolita Lebron, 34, self-styled leader of the group, received a sentence of from 16 years, 8 months, to 50 years.

Her three male companions received sentences of from 25 to 75 years each.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff said he felt maximum sentences were justified because the crime was "so heinous, so infamous, so daring and so atrocious as to shock the conscience of the nation."

The longer sentences for the three men resulted from the fact that a jury convicted them last month on five charges each of assault with intent to kill and five charges each of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Mrs. Lebron was convicted only on five charges of assault with a dangerous weapon.

BEFORE HEARING their sentences, the four Puerto Ricans protested anew that they merely staged a demonstration in behalf of Puerto Rican independence, and did not intend to kill anyone.

In their own minds, the Puerto Ricans said, they did not feel they were guilty of any crime.

Judge Holtzoff took a different view. He called the pistol attack on the House "dastardly, wicked and ruthless." Except for the skillful work of surgeons, the judge said, the Puerto Ricans would have been before him to hear death sentences, instead of sentences on lesser charges.

The three men, convicted June 17 and sentenced with Mrs. Lebron, were: Rafael Cancel Miranda, 28; Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29; and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28.

Solon Says House GOPsters Feel Pressure On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss) said today he has been told House Republicans were subjected to "terrific pressures and stringent disciplinary action," to line them up last week for flexible farm price supports.

Abernethy is a member of the House Agriculture Committee and a backer of the present system of rigid price supports, which the House refused to extend, voting instead for a flexible plan modified somewhat from administration proposals.

"Many Republicans quietly complained that every possible method of disciplinary action was exercised to whip some of their colleagues in line," Abernethy reported.

"It was strongly rumored that officials in the offices of the Republican National Committee had told members who were inclined to vote for the committee bill that unless they voted with the administration that no money would be made available for their forthcoming campaigns."

Sex-killer Manhunt Pressed After Little Girl's Body Found

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Judith Ann Roberts (bottom, right) was kidnaped, assaulted, strangled to death and her body tossed in a clump of bushes on the shore of Biscayne Bay in Miami. Finding of the body touched off the city's greatest manhunt. The father, attorney James Roberts, leaves the home of his in-laws (bottom, left) to go to the police station for questioning. The girl was abducted from a sofa in the living room of her grandfather's house. The grandfather, Harry Rosenberg (top) tries to comfort the slain girl's mother and sister, Betty. (International Soundphoto)

MIAMI (AP)—Moving swiftly to crack the brutal kidnap-murder of 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts, detectives grilled more than 30 men during the night and early today reported "very good leads."

Still to be questioned were about 40 more known sex perverts and child molesters rounded up since the body of the blue-eyed child was found here yesterday.

Judith Ann, daughter of a Baltimore lawyer and labor leader, was murdered and her body left in a palmetto thicket off fashionable South Bayshore Drive.

Five hours earlier she had been taken in her sleep from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenberg, about 2½ miles away in Miami's southwest section.

She had been strangled, beaten on the head and criminally assaulted. A night gown had been ripped from her body.

One piece of the garment and a handkerchief were tied tightly around her throat. What appeared to be a venetian blind cord held her hands tied behind her back.

The victim's 3-year-old sister Betty told police that a "colored man" had talked to her and Judith on the street Tuesday. A neighbor said she saw two Negro gardeners who worked at the Rosenbergs talking to the children on several occasions.

The children and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, arrived Sunday night from Baltimore for their annual two weeks visit with the Rosenbergs, parents of Mrs. Roberts.

Expansion Set
COLUMBUS (AP)—A $10 million expansion program was announced yesterday by the Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. Officials said it would provide eight million more bushels of grain storage space. New terminals would be built at Columbus and Toledo and other areas not yet designated.

Speeding Cars Meet Head-on On Jamestown Pike

One of Survivors Faces Prosecution For Crossing Center

Two men were killed outright and four others injured, three of them critically, at 5:45 A. M. Thursday when two cars met in a terrific head-on crash on Route 35 at the curve at West Lancaster, 10 miles northwest of Washington C. H.

The dead are Nortis Shaffer, 33, of 514 Gibbs Avenue, city, and Donald I. Tedrick, 44, of 113½ East Court Street.

The seriously injured were Russell Bondurant, 308 South North Street, left arm and both legs fractured; Edgar Fultz, 39, of Mt. Sterling, Route 1, and Jess W. Taylor, 27, Negro, Bluefield, W. Va., and Lawrence Elzey, 30, city.

The accident occurred while Shaffer, driving his Ford station truck and accompanied by Tedrick, Bondurant, Fultz and Elzey, was headed toward Dayton, where the men are employed, and Taylor, in a Buick sedan, was headed toward Washington C. H.

The two cars met head-on while both were going very fast, when Taylor, according to Sheriff Orland Hays, who investigated the accident, pulled over on the wrong side of the road, or 44 inches over the center line.

Sheriff Hays said a charge of manslaughter would be filed against Taylor if he survives.

BOTH VEHICLES were demolished and blocked the highway temporarily.

The Gerstner ambulance brought the two bodies to the Gerstner Funeral Home and also took Bondurant and Elzey to Memorial Hospital.

The Kirkpatrick ambulance took Taylor and Fultz to the hospital. Fultz was first to undergo surgery Thursday morning. His condition was described as critical.

The injured men sustained cuts, bruises and other injuries. Taylor suffered a possible fractured spine, as well as numerous severe cuts and bruises about his legs and head.

Dr. Frank King was the acting coroner in the absence of the county coroner, Dr. N. M. Reiff.

Sheriff Hays spent some time at the scene of the accident, directing traffic and making a complete check of the wreck.

Indications, he said, were that Taylor's car swung well over the center line rather suddenly and that Shaffer had no chance of stopping or taking the ditch to escape the crash.

Death of the two men brings to nine the number of traffic fatalities in the county so far this year.

Cop's Memory Traps Slayer

BOSTON (AP)—Because of a detective's memory for faces, Jacob Heim, 21, of Boston, was in custody today on a murder charge.

Police Capt. Francis Sliney said Heim admitted fatally knifing Donald Ensell, 26, of Jefferson, Ohio, a truck driver, in an early morning street fight here yesterday. Sliney said Heim told him the fight started after Ensell made insulting remarks to Heim and two friends.

Special officer Thomas F. Cunningham's memory solved the case. He read a description of the knife wielder and recalled that a man of the same description was with a juvenile he had questioned July 4. Cunningham located the juvenile and got from him Heim's name and address.

Knife-Wielder Kills Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A man wielding a butcher knife ran into an East Side rooming house early today, killed one man and injured three other persons.

Dead was Walter Russell, 35, who lived at the rooming house.

Adrian Harvey, 17, Dorothy Johnson, 22, and Robert Fisher were treated at a hospital for cuts on the backs and hands. They were not seriously injured.

Police said the slasher was described as a 28-year-old man who had a hatred of Russell. He was not identified.

Drain Is Heavy On Blood Bank

Emergency Donors
Are Called On, too

The stock of blood at Memorial Hospital was exhausted before noon Thursday as surgeons, physicians and nurses worked feverishly over the four men seriously injured in a head-on crash of two cars on the Jamestown pike early in the morning.

But, a new supply was due in from the Red Cross blood bank at Columbus momentarily, Miss Christine Evans, the hospital administrator, said and there was no anxiety expressed over the possibility that the needs could not be met.

Just how many pints of blood were used was still uncertain at mid-afternoon because the injured were not yet out of danger, most of them still on the critical list.

In addition to the blood in stock at the hospital, four pints of special A-positive type blood were given by four emergency donors who had been called by Mrs. Fred Cahill, the Red Cross secretary here.

When it was found that one of the men, Edgar Fultz, one of the most seriously injured men, needed the comparatively rare A-positive type of blood, Mrs. Cahill called Rev. Sanford Lindsey, Carroll McKinley, Rollo Marchant and Mrs. Mark King, all of who have the same type of blood.

MRS. CAHILL, said "they were at the hospital donating their blood in just no time."

She went on to say that emergencies such as this underscore the importance of the whole Red Cross blood program which provides blood for the hospital here.

Another pint of rare type blood was given at the hospital about the same time, but it was for a surgery patient, Mrs. Cahill said she had a call from the hospital for AB positive type blood and that she called William D. Brown. He gave the blood.

Two men were killed in the crash that sent the four injured to the hospital. They were Norris Shaffer and Donald Tedrick of Washington, C. H.

Also injured, in addition to Fultz, were Russell Bondurant, Lawrence Elzey (all in Shaffer's car and Jesse W. Taylor of Bluefield, W. Va., alone in the other car.

MRS. CAHILL explained that the Red Cross secretary has a list of about 500 names of those who have given blood to the Blood Bank through the mobile unit that has been coming here periodically for the last five years.

When a call comes—almost always from the hospital—for some particular type of blood, she said that all she had to do was go down the list until she came to a previous donor with that type of blood and put in the call. "They always drop everything and go right to the hospital," she said.

Miss Evans, the physicians here and Mrs. Cahill have said many times that modern science and blood from the Red Cross blood bank have saved many a life here. That, they added, is only one of the many reasons why they are so anxious to keep the county's blood program functioning.

For the last few visits of the mobile unit here, the quota for Fayette County has been 150 pints. After meeting the quota twice, the county fell down to 45 pints the last time.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Ray Parsell, 1025 Dayton Avenue, was admitted to Memorial Hospital, Wednesday afternoon, as a medical patient.

Oscar Davidson was released from Memorial Hospital, to his home in Leesburg, Wednesday afternoon. He had been a patient for observation and treatment.

George Gossard was returned from University Hospital, Columbus, to his home, 608 South Main Street, Tuesday afternoon, in the Gerstner ambulance. He is recovering following major surgery.

Richard D. Willis of Leesburg, entered Memorial Hospital, Wednesday afternoon, for medical care.

Edward Gersbach, of Octa, was brought from Greene County Memorial Hospital, Xenia, to Memorial Hospital, Thursday morning in the Kirkpatrick ambulance. He will receive further treatment for injuries suffered in a traffic accident near Jamestown, about two weeks ago.

Mrs. Norman Aills and infant daughter, were returned from Memorial Hospital, to their home, 105 East Elm Street, Wednesday afternoon.

Chester Beverly of Sabina, was admitted to Memorial Hospital, Wednesday afternoon, for surgery Thursday morning.

After being a surgical patient in Memorial Hospital, Mrs. J. Willis Dick was returned to her home in Bloomingburg, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. George Renick and infant son, were released from Memorial Hospital, to their home, Route 2, Greenfield, Wednesday afternoon.

MRS. CAHILL explained that the Red Cross secretary has a list of about 500 names of those who have given blood to the Blood Bank through the mobile unit that has been coming here periodically for the last five years.

Price of Meals Slightly Lower

Many Vegetables
On Bargain Counter

By The Associated Press
Chuck roast, leg of lamb, steaks and fryers will be among the meats featured in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And, although it won't be widely advertised, meat specialists suggest that the thrifty housewife consider veal for Sunday dinner. There's general agreement that it's one of the most economical meats available this week.

Chuck roast also is considered a good buy, and stores featuring it will trim prices by four to eight cents a pound, depending on the cut. Leg of lamb will be a bit lower, reflecting declines at wholesale, and some stores will have shoulder lamb chops at lower prices.

Prominent on the list of week-end specials are round steak, sirloin steak and porterhouse. There'll be scattered specials on prime ribs.

In the seafood line, some stores will feature swordfish and shrimp. Shrimp supplies are large, and prices are down as much as 30 cents a pound at wholesale from a year ago.

Eggs will be two to three cents a dozen cheaper in many areas. Butter prices will be unchanged everywhere.

Increasing supplies from nearby areas are putting more vegetables on the bargain counter. Heading the list of good buys this week are beans, cabbage, lettuce and squash. Produce men also rate beets, onions, greens and celery as good values. The very large size pascal celery is rather expensive, however, these specialists say.

Nearby supplies of strawberries and asparagus are about exhausted. Peaches are considered the best buy in fruits and more are coming to market every day. Among citrus fruits, preference is given to grapefruit and limes.

Stores also will be featuring cantaloupes, watermelons and cherries.

A big drive is getting under way to sell more lemons. Originally, this year's crop was estimated at 13 million boxes, but now there are reports that it may reach 15 million. So lemon-growers are urging Americans to drink more lemonade and iced tea with lemon.

Another hot-weather favorite, ice cream, is chosen by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as this week's food highlight. This year, incidentally, marks the 50th anniversary of the ice cream cone. It was invented during the 1904

Midwest Given Relief From Heat

CHICAGO (AP)—Most of the southern half of the country had hot mid-summer weather today but it was a little on the chilly side in the midwest and northeast.

Temperatures dropped into the low 50s over parts of the midwest early today. The 55 reading at Chicago was near the minimum temperature record for July 8. It was cooler in other midwest cities, with a 51 at Detroit.

The cool air extended from the Northern Plains eastward over the Great Lakes region and Ohio Valley to the Atlantic Coast.

He was a veteran of the second World War and served overseas with the Army. He was a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Besides his widow and son, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Edna Shaffer of Parrott's Station; two brothers, Donald of Leesburg, and Clarence, Jr., of Sabina, and a sister, Mrs. Florence Vince of Parrott's Station.

Funeral services are to be held at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 2 P. M. Saturday.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 P. M. Thursday.

Tedrick, a native of Highland County, had lived in Washington C. H. for only about four years. He was born at Dodsonville, south of Hillsboro but had lived in the Highland community before coming here.

He was a member of Methodist Church in Highland, of the American Legion post at Leesburg and of the Eagles Lodge at Hillsboro. He was well known in Greenfield.

He is survived by his widow; his mother, Mrs. John Tedrick of Dodsonville; a brother, Hollie of Dodsonville, and a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Spencer of Blanchester.

Funeral services, for which the military rituals will be conducted by the American Legion, are to be held at the Methodist Church in Highland at 2 P. M. Sunday. Interment is to be in the Leesburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Walker Funeral Home in Greenfield, after 6 P. M. Friday and at the church in Highland after 1 P. M. Sunday.

Grain Markets

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains turned downward on the Board of Trade today, wheat losing the most ground after its sharp advance of recent sessions. The only strength which appeared at any time was in July soybeans.

Wheat near noon was 2 1/2¢ lower, July $2.02, corn unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, July $1.58 1/2, oats 1/4¢ lower, July 71 1/2, rye 1 1/4¢ lower, July $1.02, soybeans 1 1/2¢ lower to 1 1/4¢ higher, July $3.77 and laid 7 to 22 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $15.80.

High Prices? Hidden Taxes One Top Reason

A group of serious-minded business men of Washington C. H., a few days ago were discussing the general economic situation of the country, the state of Ohio and conditions as they affect us here in Fayette County. It was typically free American talk, instructive and worth hearing.

It was not one of the complacent, lackadaisical conversations but was directed toward analysis of taxes, reasons for complaints about service, unfair criticisms by the public without adequate information and other things which affect business consumers and civic conditions in general.

One man spoke up to mention what he considered to be one serious cause of prices being what they are. He called attention to the fact that prices in some cases may be up because a manufacturer or retailer, here and there, holds them there without full justification. He insisted, however, that for the most part, competition will prevent undue gouging. He further contended that at times the public itself may do more to hold up prices by madly rushing to buy without looking for the best deal.

Another of the group brought up the point that government itself has a lot to do with prices. He asserted that government can hold prices up by guaranteed "loans", price supports and other methods which amount to buying up foods and other articles, actually in competition with the taxpayers themselves who furnish the money which is used to keep the price higher for the taxpayers who buy the goods.

Another man mentioned that one thing of which many people were inclined to lose sight, was that over the years the government had been slipping

"sneak" or hidden taxes into the price the customer pays in the hope that nobody would notice. This method enables some Congressmen to talk loudly of being against high taxes but at the same time helping to keep them high by winking at the hidden taxes.

Recently, announcement was made that the cost of living had gone down slightly. This was attributed largely to the fact that the excise, or federal sales taxes had been cut by Congress.

There would have been little, if any change along about last April, except that certain government sales taxes, in some cases called "luxury" taxes, which had been buried in prices for years, to consumers, were reduced last April 1. However, it has become known that not all the tax cuts were passed on to consumers. If they had been, the savings in taxes would have been shown to be greater than appears on the surface.

Sitting on the sidelines, it appears to us that the most effective way to bring prices down with the least harm to labor, industry or retailer is to insist that government stop burying hidden taxes in what must be charged for an automobile, food, TV set, light bulb or tooth paste. Let taxes be open and honest; these sneak levies are "painless" only for politicians, the consumer feels the pain and the manufacturer or retailer too often gets undeserved blame.

France's Troubles

Since the liberation of France at the end of World War II, that troubled country has had 19 different Governments. The number may soon be 20, for the new Premier, Mendes-France, has pledged himself to resign if he has not attained peace in Indo-China by July 20.

Pharmacy Opportunities Unlimited By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Wanted: Bright, responsible young men for indoor jobs in pleasant surroundings. Starting salaries $100-$135 weekly. Promotion possibilities unlimited."

A newspaper ad like that would sound like the answer to a college graduate's prayer.

But jobs with these advantages are practically going begging today in the nation's $4 billion-a-year drug industry. It is faced with a growing shortage of trained pharmacists.

"Enrollment in the country's 73 pharmacy colleges has dropped 25 per cent," said Carl Willingham, secretary-treasurer of the National Assn. of Chain Drug Stores. "They graduated 5,000 pharmacists five years ago, only 4,000 last year."

This falling enrollment has led the American Assn. of Colleges of Pharmacy to issue 150,000 booklets to high school career advisers citing the opportunities in the corner drugstore.

The United States has some 105,000 registered pharmacists (1 out of 10 is a woman) of whom about 99,000 are employed in the nation's 55,000 drug stores. The rest work in hospitals, government bureaus, research projects or for manufacturing firms.

But a steadily increasing population and growing interest in health have spurred a need for more pharmacists. And the demand is for better trained men. It is estimated that more than half the drugs used most often in prescriptions today were unknown before World War II.

A generation ago druggists worked an average of 60 hours a week. That has been cut to 48 hours in most areas, to 40 in a number of large cities.

"In most states a young man can become a registered pharmacist after four years of college study and a year of internship in a drug store," said Willingham. "And he doesn't have to pound the pavement looking for work."

"The jobs are there waiting. And there are plenty of openings at the top. There is a big need for drugstore managers. A man can work himself up to the $50,000 a year class, or higher, just as he can in any other field."

"Owners of pharmacies make more money on the average than either dentists or lawyers."

He cited the case of George B. Burrus, a soda fountain clerk who studied pharmacy in his spare time, now is president of the Peoples Drugstore Chain, which has 151 stores and does an annual $51 million volume.

Another ex-pharmacist who rose to the top in management, Harry L. Loynd, heads Parke, Davis and Co., which manufactured $109 million worth of pharmaceuticals in 1953.

While industry leaders have the welcome mat out for girl students in pharmacy, they don't expect the ladies to solve the shortage.

"They work an average of four years, then get married," said Willingham.

Keeping soda fountains manned is about as much of a problem as keeping the prescription counter staffed. One big reason: The operators resent the old tag of "soda jerk."

One manufacturer tried to glamorize the job by creating a new title—"fountaincers." But the campaign flopped quickly.

"Another suggestion is to call them 'fizz kids,'" remarked Willingham, and asked hopefully, "Do you think it will catch on?"

As a retired soda jerk myself, I think they need a name with more military romance behind it — maybe something like "marshmallow grenadiers" or "scoop colonels."

No GOP Leadership in Congress By George Sokolsky

If the Democrats revive Harry Truman's slogan, "A do-nothing Congress," in the 1954 campaign, they will be using against President Eisenhower a charge that the Republicans will find very difficult to answer. The real trouble with the Congress, since Robert A. Taft died, is that no leadership has taken his place. The reason is that such senators as Styles Bridges or William Knowland, who are the logical leaders, have never enjoyed the confidence of the president or of the Dewey clique that manages the White House politically.

It might have been assumed that the Republicans, who are the majority party without a working majority, would have united for common action, the president tried to unite them by use of the word "Team," which, in fact, proved offensive to most of the older senators who are chosen to office to represent their states and who have no tradition of being quarter-backed.

Then the theory was developed that the party was controlled by a "Leadership." This ambiguous term made little impression on the older Republican senators, all of whom are leaders in their own right or they would not have been elected to the Senate. When it appeared that the "Leadership" was not a liaison between the president and the Senate but included persons who were neither of the executive nor legislative branches, outsiders such as John J. McCloy and Lucius Clay, whose judgment the president trusted, the offense became greater in the eyes of the Republican senators.

It is traditional in American politics that each branch of Congress chooses its own leaders, the president may influence such a choice within his own party but he must do it delicately. Only Franklin D. Roosevelt succeeded in breaking this tradition, but Roosevelt was an unusually skillful politician who could do many things that others imitate at their peril.

When the senators discovered that the president was operating on a general staff basis, that Sherman Adams was chief of staff, that they had to reach the president through Adams or through members of his staff, who are called "Legislative liaisons," they were resentful. While other presidents have employed the same device of "Legislative liaison" assistants, high-ranking members of the Senate could reach the president swiftly and intimately. This has not been easy with President Eisenhower.

Senators have told me that when they see the president, he will only discuss what is on the agenda but does not like general conversations. Senators are not accustomed to being limited in this manner, particularly when the president is of their own party.

Into this breach stepped the vice-president, Richard Nixon, with unexpected effectiveness. He assumed responsibility for settling quarrels, for bridging unpleasant personal differences. Nixon was emerging as the leader of his party in the Senate and prospective candidate for the presidency. Then the Dewey clique turned on him and gradually Nixon's influence began to evaporate in the White House.

This unfortunately happened during the McCarthy-Stevens hearings when the strongest leadership was necessary to prevent this particular quarrel from splitting the Republican party irrevocably and from scuttling the Eisenhower legislative program.

For instance, the Eisenhower tariff bill was killed as part of this split, but most Republicans felt that had there been a proper meeting of the minds, no radical tariff bill would have been presented this year.

The real difficulty is that the president conceives his office as something different from the American tradition. True, the president of the United States is president of the whole people, but he is elected as a partisan and so far as Congress is concerned, he belongs to the party which nominated him. A bi-partisan or a non-partisan president is an anomaly in the American system. Dwight D. Eisenhower apparently dislikes partisan politics and politicians, but the political life of the United States is organized on the two-party system and Congress is not organized to function on any other basis.

The split in the Republican party has left Congress leaderless and hopelessly bogged down in very important matters of legislation. This manifests itself more in the Senate than in the House of Representatives. In the Senate, such elder statesmen as Senators Bridges, Bricker, Knowland and others realize that the president does not favor them but prefers to hand-pick his senatorial favorites. They resent it.

Diet and Health Antihistamine Eases Dental Work Effects

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Slowly returning consciousness is one of the difficult problems confronting oral surgeons and dentists when they anesthetize patients for tooth removal. It may take from a few minutes to a few hours, and the patient may develop a slight headache.

It is believed that the reason for this is tissue injury when the teeth are removed. With this injury, a substance called histamine is given off into the system.

Good Results

Recently, a group of patients were given antihistamine drugs prior to and after dental surgery. It was found that, instead of the usually large number of the patients having slow reactions following anesthesia, 98 per cent reacted almost immediately after the anesthesia was stopped.

It was also found that the amount of dead tissue formed was decreased. The pain, swelling and bleeding of the jaw that usually accompanies extraction was decreased, and healing occurred more promptly.

Another Problem

A frequent complication of oral surgery or removal of teeth is what is known as a "dry socket." A "dry socket" is a disintegrated blood clot with a foul odor which may occur in the socket of an extracted tooth.

Severe pain usually accompanies a "dry socket." It was found that most persons who suffered from this complication following extraction were helped by the antihistamine drugs.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. S. E.: About a week ago some debris blew into my eye. Will it come out by itself?

Answer: You should seek medical help. A foreign body in the eye may carry germs and cause severe infection or even ulceration of the cornea or window portion of the eye.

Jap Politicos

Frown On Dinner

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese politicians are exhibiting an unseasonal frost towards an American-style fund-raising dinner, cooked up to finance a merger of the three conservative political parties.

In money-tight Japan, where Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party (conservative), sponsors a stark austerity plan, the $31-a-plate dinner is on the hot griddle.

But it's not so much the cost that frowns the critics. It's the frivolity such as cocktails and night club acts which one newspaper charged would turn the dinner into a "cabaret Christmas party."

Ike's Threat Brings Action

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's threat to refuse to be a candidate for the White House at the end of his first term has apparently forced a nominally Republican Congress to enact a sizable portion of his legislative program, far more than seemed possible before Sherman Adams envisaged the dire possibility.

When the legislators adjourn at the end of this month, it is probable that Ike will have obtained greater and more favorable action on his domestic and foreign proposals than his two predecessors did since the start of World War II in 1941. In view of the fact that the Democrats are in a minority of only three in the House and one in the Senate, this will be a notable achievement.

It will be all the more surprising because, in certain respects, Eisenhower has demanded that Congress reverse the trend and the field which it had tracked during the last 20 years.

Ike has been no miracle man, at the White House or on Capitol Hill, an his executive ability is yet to be tested in a major crisis. But he will have done a fairly workmanlike job, if present developments are any criterion.

PROGRAM — Eisenhower obviously advanced too elaborate a legislative program at the start of this session. He bit off more than the politicians can chew in a re-election year. But here, briefly, is what he proposed on major problems, and here is what he is likely to get from Congress:

LABOR: His request for Taft-Hartley revision satisfied neither labor nor management, which suggests that it was an impartial or middle-of-the-way program. It was sidetracked. But both sides seem to be satisfied. In current contract negotiations, there is a strange peace and quiet along the labor front.

FARM: His demand for flexible 75-90 per cent parity angered the farm bloc, both Republicans and Democrats, although it appealed to many farmers and consumers. The prospective settlement at 82½ per cent parity levels can be scored as a White House victory.

ECONOMY: Taxes will have been reduced by almost $4 billion with expected passage of the overhaul revision bill. The budget deficit for fiscal 1954 will probably turn out to be the lowest in several years, about $3.3 billion. It may be brought into balance next year, with further economies. Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey has emerged as the "strong man" of the Cabinet.

TARIFFS: Eisenhower lost his fight for enactment of the extremely low-tariff Randall program. But he gained a one-year extension of the present reciprocal tariff agreement pending a further study of the effects of the Randall proposals. As a matter of fact, they will have such a far-reaching effect on industry and employment that they need at least a year's re-examination.

FOREIGN AID: It has been transformed from economic to military assistance, in view of foreign countries' recovery. It has been reduced by 40 per cent in the two years since the GOP came to power. And it will be cut off entirely within twelve months, unless our European Allies show greater cooperation in the cold war with Russia.

Finally, Eisenhower obtained Senate ratification of the treaty for power and navigation development of the St. Lawrence River after a 30-year delay and battle over this project.

Eisenhower has not performed any legislative or executive miracles, it is true. But it may be that the American people are weary of miracles, crises and sensations at Washington.

AN ECHO — The elimination of the Communist beachhead in Guatemala is strangely reminiscent of the manner in which the United States gave midnight recognition to Panama so that we could build the famous canal.

When the Diaz military junta visited Ambassador John E. Peurifoy, who was togged out in his golfing clothes at the moment, he demanded to know their attitude toward Guatemalan Communists. Their answers were not satisfactory, and he so reported to Washington.

Two days later, Diaz was out and a regime committed to ousting and jailing the Reds was in.

White Oak Grove WSCS Meets At Allen Home

The regular July meeting of the White Oak Grove WSCS was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Willard Allen with twenty-one members and three guests present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Harry Rife, and devotions led by Mrs. Donald Rife, consisted of Scripture taken from Romans.

The program was led by Miss Orna Waddie, who used as her subject, "Meeting Rural Needs," and she was assisted by Mrs. Jed Stacey and Mrs. Harry Rife who read articles pertaining to the interesting subject.

The secretary, Miss Maxine Gilmer, gave her report and the treasurer's was given by Mrs. A. L. Morris, both of which were accepted as read.

Mrs. Kyri Betz reported on the twelve young people who were sent to the Sabina Camp Ground Christian Adventure Camp of the Wilmington District by the society from White Oak Grove Church. Special reports for the month included 46 cards sent, 31 bouquets, 27 calls and 17 donations.

The meeting was adjourned and during the social hour summer refreshments were served by the hostess.

Class Members Precede Meeting With Picnic

Members of the Loyal Berean Class of the South Side Church of Christ met at Washington Park, Tuesday evening, for a picnic and class meeting.

The bountiful picnic supper was served in the shelter house preceding the meeting and the adaptable surroundings and the playground with its slides, swings and merry-go-round for the children, added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

The president, Mr. Howard Brooks, presided over the business meeting.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were accepted as read and the report of the class project of new sidewalks was reported as almost finished. The class sending four boxes of used clothing to the French Mission Field in Louisiana, was reported.

Mrs. Charles Hooks was devotional leader for the evening and she led in the singing of suggested choruses, with Rev. David Meyer leading in prayer.

Mrs. Hooks and Mrs. Frank E. Creamer sang a duet, "He Bought My Soul at Calvary," with Mrs. Creamer playing ukulele accompaniment, and the devotions were closed with the chorus, "Thank You, Lord."

Plans for the next meeting will be announced later.

Guild Circles Combine For Supper Meeting

The association meeting of the Westminster Guild of the First Presbyterian Church was held Wednesday evening in the church and was preceded by a tropical supper at 6:30 P. M. in the church dining room.

Circle 3, with Mrs. Charles Wallace, leader, was the hostess circle and had arranged the meal to be in keeping with the program which pertained to the Spanish American people.

The tables were decorated with sea shells, coral, flamingoes and sea plants, and the fruit plate was placed on attractive place mats featuring designs of tropic sea life. Mrs. Paul Pennington was in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Herbert Clickner was the kitchen chairman.

Following the delightful supper hour, the members and guests assembled in the sanctuary for the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. John E. Bailey in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Rankin Paul.

Mrs. Bailey offered prayer, which was followed with the singing of the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," and a piano solo, "Waltz in C Major," beautifully played by Miss Jo Davis, who also played the offertory, and the society planned to send the offering to medical missions in Africa.

Mrs. McCoy Gardner led in the impressive devotions, which included

Jeffersonville WSCS Circles Hold Meeting

The WSCS circles of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church combined on Wednesday afternoon for the regular meeting at the church.

Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, president, conducted the meeting and opened with the reading, "What Is An American?"

The usual reports were heard and accepted and Mrs. O. L. Wiseman, who is in charge of the Youth Department of the church, reported that the ten members were sent to the Sabina Methodist Camp for one week which were partially sponsored by the WSCS.

Mrs. Wiseman also announced that the Youth Fellowship members would hold a food sale Saturday, July 17, at the Jeffersonville Auto Company at 1 P. M.

Mrs. Marvin Stockwell, missionary secretary, gave a reading on Missionary Education, and Mrs. Lawrence Coss was in charge of the combined devotions and program.

The first number on the program was a piano solo by Mrs. John Baird, and Mrs. Coss followed with a talk on the subject, "The Sheep of His Hand," led in prayer and in the singing of a hymn, "Lord, Speak To Me That I May Speak."

Her Scripture reading was taken from Matthew and readings were as follows: "Conversation On A Bus," by Mrs. Norman Newman; "The Larger Parish," by Mrs. Ray Fisher; "County Work," by Mrs. Baird; "Group Ministry," by Mrs. Marvin Stockwell; "The Developing of Local Leaders," by Mrs. Coss, the closing hymn, "O Young and Fearless Prophet," and prayer by the leader.

The poem, "I Cannot Do Much Said The Little Star," read by the president, closed the meeting, and during the social hour, Mrs. Vernon Mason, Mrs. Eugene Heironimus and Mrs. Raymond Allen were hostesses and served a tempting summer refreshment course.

ed Scripture from the third chapter of Exodus.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer were given and approved and Mrs. Bailey announced as the topic for the program, "Christ Calls Us To Witness Among Spanish Americans."

This was illustrated by a film on Puerto Rico, and following the showing of the film, Mrs. Dwight Roads, Jr., closed the meeting with prayer.

Summer Lunch: Make a cheese sandwich and then grill them in a skillet until golden brown; serve them with sliced tomatoes that have been marinated in a mixture of brown sugar, cider vinegar, salt and pepper.

WSCS Circles Combine For Church Day

The regular Church Day of the combined circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in Fellowship Hall at Grace Methodist Church, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Grimm, president, opened the meeting with the reading of a poem, "God's Loveliness" and the secretary, Mrs. Elmer Reed, gave her report as did the treasurer, Mrs. Webber French.

The reports by officers and circle leaders were also given and were followed with reports given by Mrs. Ethel Caldwell, director of religious education and three members of the Youth Fellowship, Phyllis McCoy, Kay Minshall and Douglas Rider who attended the Sabina Methodist Camp and were among the ten members sponsored by the WSCS for a week's camping.

The worship table covered with a white cloth held the flags of all nations, portraying the theme, "Christ For All."

Mrs. Virgil Jennings, spiritual life secretary, introduced Mrs. Frank Haines, as devotional leader, who read Scripture from Matthew, a short article on the subject and closed the worship period with prayer.

Mrs. Grimm presented Mrs. John Friend, Jr. of Batavia, promotion secretary of Wilmington District, who gave a most interesting report on the National WSCS assembly she had attended in Milwaukee recently.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the Doxology with Mrs. B. E. Kelley at the piano.

During the social hour tempting refreshments were served by members of Circle 12 with Mrs. Robert Woodmansee as the leader.

Life Insurance Popularity Is On Upswing

Amounts in Force
Boom Since End
Of World War II

NEW YORK (AP)—Unanimity in the highly competitive insurance business is rare. But on one subject all industry leaders agree—the growing popularity of life insurance protection since World War II has been phenomenal.

Life insurance in force climbed from 122 billion dollars in 1941 to 304 billion at the start of this year, an increase of 194 per cent.

The number of life insurance companies increased by more than 300 in those years to total 800. And more than 24 million new policyholders were added to the lists.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries amounted to $4,540, 929,000 in 1953, nearly twice the annual payments in 1941.

The Institute of Life Insurance claims that 79 per cent of all U. S. families own some type of life insurance. Seven per cent of these families put 10 per cent or more of their disposable income into insurance premiums. And in the $5,000 to $7,499 income group, 93 per cent are life insurance owners.

Every state reported gains in life insurance ownership since 1941. But in three states—Arizona, New Mexico and Florida—the increases were well over 300 per cent. Small percentage increases were in Massachusetts and New York, where insurance in force doubled.

Delaware is the state with the most life insurance in force per family—$9,100. Connecticut families average $8,200 and New Jersey residents rank third with $8,000. Families in Mississippi have the least amount of life insurance—$2,400 on the average. Arkansas families are second from the bottom, holding $2,700 worth.

While these varying state gains reflect such things as vast movements in population, industrial development and increased income levels, they also demonstrate that families in all sections of the country endeavor to keep their financial protection in line with changing needs and improved living standards, the institute commented.

Women and children bought a record $10,300,000 of new life insurance last year, but men were still the chief buyers and owners. Men accounted for 71 per cent of last year's purchases and 76 per cent of insurance in force when 1954 began. This is exclusive of credit life insurance, which guarantees repayment of outstanding loans in case the insured borrower dies, was barely noticeable before World War II. Now it totals $8,706,000,000.

Group life insurance has increased fourfold since 1941. It now totals $68,768,000,000 under 40 million certificates in 93,000 different contract groups.

Premiums paid to insurance companies by American workers and employers for all group coverage topped three billion dollars last year. This compares with $1,863, 000,000 in 1950 and only $27 million dollars in 1945.

Life insurance assets, which back up more than 200 million policies, have also changed since 1941. Mortgage investments increased from 19.7 to 29.7 per cent of the total; business and industrial bonds and stocks climbed from 31 to 44 per cent. Meanwhile, policy loans declined from 8.9 to 3.7 per cent of total assets and U. S. government obligations dropped from 20.8 to 12.5 per cent.

Secret Weapon Sought By Japs

TOKYO (AP)—Japan is in the market for a good secret weapon if someone has one for sale.

Director Tokutaro Kimura of Japan's new self-defense force said today the army is interested in a guided missile and would like to buy the manufacturing license for such a weapon.

Other members of the defense board pointed out, however, that guided missiles still are rated top secret and once sold on the international market they can hardly be considered secret.

Yanks In Europe Get A-Weapons

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—U. S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens says American forces in Germany are "well equipped" with atomic weapons. He indicated guided missiles will eventually be added to Army defense strength in Europe.

He made the statement at a news conference here when asked if the Army contemplated sending more atomic weapons to Germany. "The forces here are well equipped in that respect," he said. Later he said also "it would be natural to suppose" that the Army would send guided missiles to Germany in time, but added, "there is no firm plan on which I am in a position to comment." The Air Force already has guided missiles in West Germany.

Marriage Fails After Third Try

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Rosalyn Becker, 35, was believed to have established a record here yesterday when she filed a suit seeking her third divorce from the same man.

The suit accused her husband Louis, 36, an elevator operator, of cruelty, the same grounds on which she obtained two previous divorces. They have a daughter, 8.

They were married July 1, 1944; divorced Dec. 30, 1950; married Jan. 30, 1951; divorced March 1951; and married Jan. 23, 1954.

Army Unit Seeks Buffalo As Mascot

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A U. S. Army battalion in Germany wants a buffalo for mascot. It probably won't get one, though.

In a letter to Gov. Howard Pyle, soldiers with the 510th Heavy Tank Battalion asked for one of Arizona's remaining bison to go with the outfit's buffalo crest.

"It would really help morale," one soldier said.

Pyle passed the request on to the Arizona Game and Fish Department, where a spokesman said shipping a buffalo to Germany would be "too expensive."

Steel Wage Hike May Up Other Prices

Industry Spokesmen
Say New Pay Boost
Should Be Passed On

NEW YORK (AP)—Will a wage-price hike in the steel industry spread to other industries and start another inflation spiral?

Such spirals in postwar years sent the bread-buyer and the bread-maker into a race to keep up with each other. Wages went up generally, and prices went up generally. And the purchasing power of the dollar in the nation's stores took it on the chin.

Steel industry spokesmen say that the new wage hikes, plus the insurance and pension provisions of the new union contract, would justify a raise in the price of steel products.

The question for them to decide is whether their customers will balk, in these days of fierce competition in the steel business. Some steel products have competitors among the other metals and the plastics.

And the makers of autos, household gadgets and other big users of steel may argue that it's hard enough as it is to find customers for their products at present prices—let alone trying to pass along another steel price hike in the form of higher prices on consumer goods.

Since the wage and benefit package which the steel companies have negotiated with the steel workers is the most generous of any this year in a major industry, there's a chance that other unions will push hard for similar gains.

Managements in other industries would be just as convinced as the steel companies that hikes in labor costs justify a boost in consumer products.

Labor leaders, on the other hand, argue that corporate profits are high enough to absorb the wage increases without raising prices.

In other postwar years wage boosts often laid the basis for another go-round of inflation.

This year, as in many other post-war years, there is also at hand that fertile seed-bed for inflation—a federal policy of easy money and easy credit.

But business observers point out today that other conditions aren't the same this year and that the chances of another inflationary spiral aren't great.

For one thing, the postwar shortages that sent customers scurrying to buy at any price are things of the past. Raising prices is one thing. Getting people to buy at a higher price is another.

For another thing, consumer demand is much less active now. So many durable goods have been bought and installed in the nation's homes that the appetite for them, although not sated, is certainly not as great.

And finally, this time the consumer won't be competing with the military for goods. The defense program has been stretched out and military buying is considerably less than two years ago.

This means that there are plenty of goods to be had. Price-hiking, whether justified by costs or not, will be a tricky business.

It would take the work of a million men to repair the damage done in the United States by insects.

Narrow Highways Blamed For Toll

COLUMBUS (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate James A. Rhodes blames Ohio's "narrow highways" for the state's Independence Day traffic toll.

He said the Lausche administration's "bureaucratic bungling" of highway planning and construction must "bear the blame" when the state continues to rank high in the nation's traffic death tolls.

Ohio was fourth in the long holiday traffic death tally with 22 dead. Michigan had 33, California 32 and Texas 24.

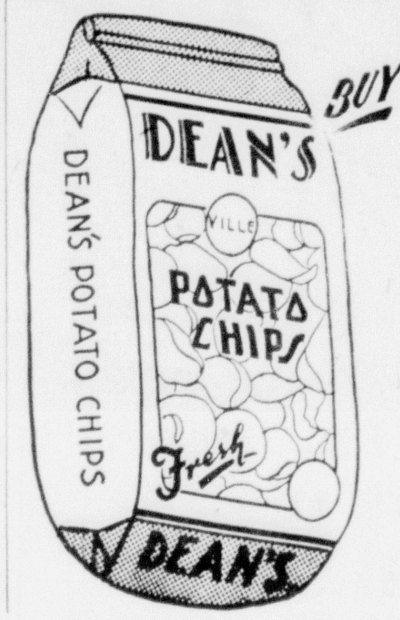

China Very Slow Giving Releases

HONG KONG (AP)—No large-scale release of American or British nationals from China has taken place so far as a result of negotiations in Geneva, and American officials in Hong Kong are beginning to doubt that the Reds intend to let many trapped foreigners out.

The Communists at Geneva hinted that the gates might be thrown open but as time passes, it still looks as though the Reds examine each foreigner for possible political use before letting him go.

Thirty-four British came out in June, compared with 15 in May. However, 22 came before June 15, which seems too early to have resulted from Geneva promises. The other 12 might have benefitted from Geneva, but all had been waiting for months or years for exit permits.

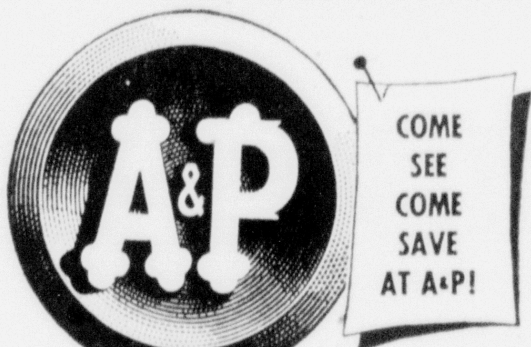

Cambodia is working to restore part of the irrigation system of the ancient and abandoned city of Angkor, seat of the lost Khmer civilization.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P) — This is an ABC on how the United States can try to keep Red China out of the United Nations.

When the U.N. was created at war's end, Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists were the government of China. As such, they were given U.N. membership. At that time the Chinese Communists were a minority group, not a government.

Later they drove Chiang off the mainland to the island of Formosa. He set up shop there, claiming his was still the real government of all China. The Reds, occupying all the mainland, said they were the government.

The United States, refusing to recognize the Reds, has supported Chiang with arms and money. But 17 of the U.N.'s 60 member nations — including Britain, Russia, India, the Netherlands — have recognized Red China.

The U.N. has two main bodies: Security Council and General Assembly. All 60 U.N. members sit in the Assembly; 11 also sit in the council. Chiang's Nationalists sit in both council and Assembly.

The council is in continuous session, the Assembly meets a few times. It doesn't meet again until Sept. 21. The fight over Red China, when and if it comes in 1954, is almost certain to be in the Assembly, not in the council.

The council and the Assembly operate more or less independently of each other and have different voting rules. In both places, this year at least, the United States appears now to have enough friendly votes to keep Red China out.

But this could happen: The Assembly might vote to seat the Nationalists and let the Communists keep their seat.

Take the Assembly first: Say someone moves to seat Red China. The United States could ask the vote on this motion be postponed. The decision would be by a simple majority of the 60 Assembly members. The United States might have enough friendly votes to win even on a majority tie.

But suppose it loses on this vote. That doesn't mean Red China walks in. If the majority voted against postponing a vote, the United States could invoke Article 18 of the U.N. Charter when the actual vote on seating Red China came up.

This says that on any "important" question like seating a new member, Assembly approval must be by a two-thirds vote. All the United States would need then would be one third of the votes, plus one, to keep Red China out. It could probably do that.

But Russia could argue that Article 18 does not apply because China is already a member and that the only issue was whether to seat the Communists instead of the Nationalists. If the Assembly agreed with this view, and held Article 18 did not apply, a simple majority would decide whether to admit Red China. The United

Reunion of Class of 1914 Is To Be Held Here Sunday

Plans for the eighth reunion Sunday of Washington C. H. High School class of 1914, which was graduated 40 years ago last June, today were just about complete, except possibly for the usual last-minute details.

This is the only WHS class that held reunions every five years and it has never missed one.

Just how many will be at the gathering this year is conjectural, just as it has been every five years in the past, but the committee is laying general plans for taking care of between 50 and 75.

What complicates estimating the turnout is that the families of the class members are expected, too—and now that these include grandchildren, it's admittedly difficult to know just how big a family will be from year to year.

The reunion is to start at noon with a basket dinner in the high school dining room. Although some of these there come from considerable distances, there has never been any scarcity of food on the table. There always has been more than enough for those who decide at the last minute to come.

ALONG WITH the members of the class and their families, several of the teachers are expected to be there. Among those almost certain to come are Miss Amy V. Conn.

States might run into trouble on that.

Now take the Security Council: Five of its 11 members are permanent: the United States, Britain, France, China, Russia. The other six, elected from the Assembly, hold their seats on a rotating basis.

At present the six are Brazil, Colombia, Turkey, Lebanon, Denmark and New Zealand.

The council votes on two kinds of questions: (a) procedural (or minor), like setting up a committee to study something and (b) substantive (very important), like telling both sides in a war to stop shooting and withdraw.

Any substantive question, like letting Red China into the Security Council, can be killed by any one of the five permanent members with a simple veto. The United States and Nationalist China, both on the council, would cast vetoes.

So Russia is never likely to agree that membership for Red China is a substantive question. Instead, if it brings the question up in the Security Council at all it is almost certain to try to make it a procedural matter.

The U.N. Charter provides for no veto on a procedural question, which can be approved if 7 of the 11 council members vote for it. But the Communists could hardly win that way now because of the council's makeup.

Since 7 of the 11 votes would be necessary to seat Red China, the United States could block that if it could round up five votes against. It seems to have those five votes now, but may not have that much strength next year after new temporary council members are chosen.

414 North North Street, who taught English and history, and Mrs. H. E. Stevens, who when she was Miss Mabel Graham was the commercial teacher for the class of 1914. Mrs. Stevens now lives in Xenia.

O. K. Probasco, who was the high school principal when the class of 1914 was graduated, came back for nearly every one of the reunions before his death since the last one was held in 1949.

There were 47 graduates in that graduating class 40 years ago—just about a third as many as received their diplomas from WHS this year. This was the first class graduated from the present high school building. There have been, however, many changes in the building since then; for one thing there is now a wide corridor and classrooms in that part of the building directly in front of the main entrance where the auditorium in which that commencement was held was located.

Some of the 47 graduates of 1914 have died during the years since that commencement, others have moved away and lost touch with their old home town and classmates.

Graduates of the class of 1914 have scattered all over the country, and some of them rarely get back.

THREE YEARS after they were handed their diplomas, the country was engulfed in the first World War and most of the boys of the class were in the thick of it.

But, six of the girls and two of the boys still live in and near Washington C. H. And, it is these who plan the reunions every five years. They are Mrs. J. Earl McLean, Mrs. Clifford Foster, Mrs. Zoe Garlinger, Mrs. J. Rankin Paul, Mrs. J. Walter Thompson, Mrs. Lydia Williams, Otha Cox and Emerson Chapman.

A number of the members of the class who live out of the city are expected to come here for the reunion. Among them probably will be the two Collopy boys, Wardus, a public relations agent in Dayton, and Frank, an attorney in Columbus. Frank Collopy has acted as the toastmaster for the last few reunions.

Ted Shipley, who has lived in California for more than 25 years, had sent word that he planned to return for this reunion. Later word was received that the $300 he had saved up for the trip had been stolen and, although the thief was caught and admitted it a procedural matter.

The U.N. Charter provides for no veto on a procedural question, which can be approved if 7 of the 11 council members vote for it. But the Communists could hardly win that way now because of the council's makeup.

Since 7 of the 11 votes would be necessary to seat Red China, the United States could block that if it could round up five votes against. It seems to have those five votes now, but may not have that much strength next year after new temporary council members are chosen.

the theft, none of the money was recovered.

While there is always a little routine business taken up—chiefly concerning the next reunion—the affair is held in an atmosphere of informality and devoted entirely to renewing old friendships of school days and getting acquainted with the families.

The program, if a program it can be called, will be some introductions and personal reports that are nothing more than reminiscences.

Eyman Reported In Line For Post

COLUMBUS (P)—A local newspaper today said R. M. Eyman of Lancaster is being "seriously" considered by Gov. Frank J. Lausche as state director of education.

Eyman, 38, is assistant director. He was Fairfield County school superintendent from 1928 until 1945 when he joined the department. Present director, Dr. Clyde Hissong, has resigned effective Sept. 15 to rejoin the faculty of Bowling Green State University as a professor of education. Dr. Hissong has been director nine years.

Army's Recheck Shows Error

CINCINNATI (P)—The missing waterworks superintendent of nearby Cleves, indicted on a $4,320 embezzlement charge, has not been found. Fort Knox, Ky., Army authorities said yesterday John W. Donnelly, 46, was a soldier there.

But a recheck showed the GI was Donnelly's 18-year-old son. Mrs. Donnelly said she couldn't see how the Army could confuse her husband with her son. The elder Donnelly disappeared from the suburb in June 1953.

Badger-Game Killer Nears Execution

COLUMBUS (P)—Barring intervention by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Russell G. Muskus of Kankakee, Ill., will die in the electric chair tomorrow for a strangulation badger-game slaying.

Muskus was convicted of first degree murder in the 1952 Canton hotel room slaying of George Le Masters of New Philadelphia. The slaying occurred after Muskus' companion, Sandra Lee Kingsley testified she lured LeMasters to a hotel room. She is serving a life prison sentence.

Red Tinted Judge Faces Impeachment

TOKYO (P)—Impeachment proceedings opened today against a judge accused of opening his court with Communist songs and allowing Red defendants to "pray for a Communist victory in Korea."

A Diet committee is conducting the hearing against Judge Tetsuzo Sasaki of Osaka.

The prayers for a Red victory allegedly occurred last July at the trial of persons accused of participating in a Communist 1952 May Day riot.

Hospital Bed Feels 'Good'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Those soft, white hospital sheets felt mighty good to Levi Black, 39, today.

The 200-pound, 6-foot Black was resting up after being stuck for perhaps 24 hours in the gooey mud of Beargrass Creek.

He said he fell into the creek from a railroad trestle. He thought he fell Saturday, he said at first. Then he wasn't sure. Hospital attendants said they thought it must have been Monday.

In any event, it was a "long time" before some children found him yesterday, Black said.

Contracts Let For Two Bridges

One Over Paint Creek South of Good Hope

Contracts for two new bridges in Fayette County, have been let by the State Highway Department.

One of them is on the Good Hope and Greenfield Road, to replace the old steel bridge over Paint Creek. It is considered not only too narrow for a modern bridge but also as having about served its time as a safe structure.

Contract for a new steel beam concrete structure over Paint Creek, with new black top approaches, was let to the Kulk Industrial Corp. of Alliance for $71,988.30.

The engineer's estimate on the structure was $82,220. The job is to be completed next year.

The other bridge is over Sugar Creek on state route 729, immediately south of Jeffersonville. The contract for it was let to John Hull Construction Co. of Mansfield, on a bid of $42,341.55. The estimate was $44,000.

This bridge and approaches also are to be completed next year. The bridge over Paint Creek will be in three spans, two of 68 feet each, and the other 85 feet.

The span over Sugar Creek is approximately 85 feet.

Gotham Lad Comes Home As Stowaway

NEW YORK — For 14-year-old Peter Devlin Smith there is no place like home, even if this home is in hot, muggy New York.

His parents, however, thought it would be a good idea if the boy spent the summer in Norway where he goes to school.

This idea Pete didn't like at all. And the tall, blond boy had made it quite clear.

"If you don't send me passage money to come home, I'll stow away," he warned in a letter. But his mother and stepfather, Nora and Kendall Smith, apparently had underestimated this grim determination. Pete didn't get the money.

Yesterday, the telephone rang and the stepfather answered. "Hallo, Papa," he heard. "Papa, here I am."

It took some time for Papa to figure out what was going on. Finally an immigration official got on the phone and explained. Yes, Pete was here.

Later, at his Manhattan home, Pete explained everything.

He and 13-year-old Jon Eric Johannsen decided to come over. So they walked aboard the Norwegian American Line flagship Oslofjord on the crew gangplank.

The two spent nine days aboard the ship, mixing with the paying passengers, playing deck games and sleeping in shower rooms.

As for food — it was simple, explained Pete.

"The first day out when the ship docked in Copenhagen they got landing cards like any other passenger and had sandwiches ashore."

"The rest of the time we ate cookies mostly," said Pete.

Jon was detained aboard to be returned to Norway.

Rancher's Wife Wins Plane Derby

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Mrs. Ruth Deerman of El Paso, Tex., today was declared winner of the eighth annual Powder Puff Derby.

Forty-six planes, piloted by women fliers, completed the 2,000-mile transcontinental race which began at Long Beach, Calif., last Saturday.

Mrs. Deerman, wife of a west Texas cotton rancher, arrived here Monday in a Cessna 140. She averaged 123 m.p.h. and had a handicap of 112 m.p.h. She will be awarded $800 as first prize.

THE ORIGINAL screen vamp in silent films, Theda Bara is reported to be gravely ill in a Hollywood hospital after an emergency abdominal operation for appendicitis and complications. The age of the heavy-lidded film siren, who made 40 pictures between 1919 and 1923, has been carefully guarded secret. (International)

Cut-Rate Prices Reveal Burglary

MALDEN, Mass. — A haberdasher is charged with suspicion of larceny because the young saleswoman of a rival store noticed his cut-rate prices.

Miss Joan Lack, 16, spotted a sign in the store advertising polo shirts at three for a dollar.

She told her boss, Martin Bronstein, 42, that "someone's beating your prices."

Bronstein's wife investigated and found that the polo shirts resembled those stolen from the Bronstein warehouse.

The proprietor of the cut-rate store was arrested on suspicion.

Police quoted him as saying he bought the goods from several men identified as former Bronstein employees.

Holdup Victim Irked By 'Friends'

BALTIMORE — Ben Cohn, 34-year-old insurance collector, lost

$155 and some of his faith in the fellowship of man here yesterday.

Cohn said he was robbed by two hoodlums who attacked him on a sidewalk at 2:30 p.m. while passers-by ignored the whole thing.

"I could see people across the street," he said. "They saw me struggling. I can't get over it. If they only had called the police."

The insurance collector couldn't call police. One of his attackers had his throat caught in an elbow vise. Cohn said he lost $125 of company money and $30 of his own money.

New Idle Pay List Jumps Up

COLUMBUS — The number of newly unemployed Ohioans took a sharp jump last week, but the total drawing unemployment benefits was the lowest in months, about 93,990.

These employment conditions were announced today by the state Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in its weekly report.

Ohioans who lost their jobs last week and filed for benefits numbered 14,829. The previous week, the newly unemployed totaled 10,568. The week ended June 12 the total was 12,296 and for the week ended June 19 it was 11,394.

Most of the increase in the newly unemployed came in Dayton.

Tree No Substitute For Fire Escape

BOSTON — An apartment house owner protested in court yesterday that building a fire escape would "just make it that much easier for crooks" and suggested a tree outside the building as a substitute.

Municipal Court Judge Jennie Loitman Barron did not accept the substitute and found the defendant, Nishan S. Bagdikian, guilty of failing to provide a suitable fire exit.

The judge ordered him to provide one within a week.

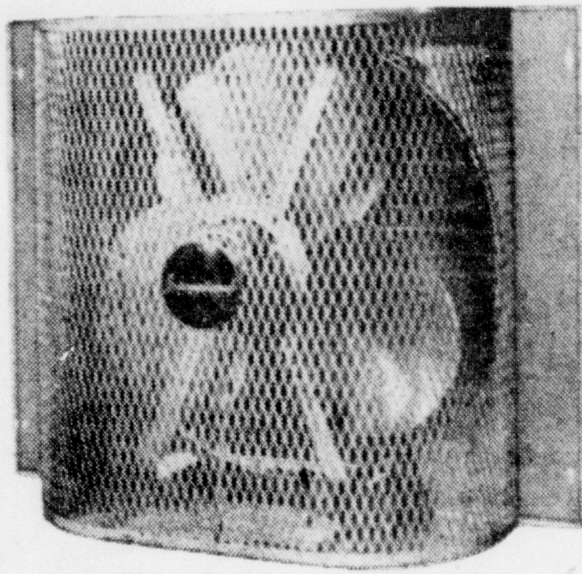

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Paying More Tax

COLUMBUS — Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers sees the possibility of greater revenues for sales taxes paid by utilities.

Bowers, working on rules for gas and electric companies, says the purpose is to get uniform tax payments on tangible personal property the utilities buy. He said, "Compliance by the utilities will increase the tax yield."

Giants Holding Big Bulge In NL Flag Race

Not Since 1936 Chase Have Giants Held Such Wide Margin

By The Associated Press
The New York Giants, rolling along at a phenomenal .861 pace since June 3, hold the biggest lead any Giant team has enjoyed past the midseason mark in 18 years.

Not since Sept. 25, 1936, when the Giants led the Chicago Cubs by seven games, has a Giant club led by more than the current 5½-game margin over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The 1936 Giants went on to win the pennant by five games. Since then they have won two pennants—in 1937 and in 1951. Their biggest margin in 1937 was 4½ games. In 1951, they didn't grab exclusive possession of first place until after the first postseason playoff game with the Dodgers.

Last night the Giants not only captured their 31st victory in the last 37 games but made it five in a row over Brooklyn with a resounding 10-2 triumph. They walked four home runs, scored four runs in each of the first and fifth innings and whipped Don Newcombe for the first time at Ebbets Field since the big Negro right-hander joined the Dodgers in 1949.

To rub it in, Jim Hearn, the Giants' right-hander, went the route only for the second time this season and registered his first Ebbets Field triumph since July 3, 1952.

Willie Mays, Monte Irvin, Wes Westrum and Alvin Dark smacked the homers. Gil Hodges got one for the Dodgers. It was No. 28 for Mays, tops in both leagues.

Cleveland's Indians drubbed the Baltimore Orioles 6-1 for their 10th victory in the last 11 games. All the Indian runs came in the second inning.

The New York Yankees trounced the Boston Red Sox 17-9, remaining 3½ games behind first-place Cleveland. Chicago's White Sox, struggling to stay within reach of the Indians, shut out Detroit 9-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Don Johnson.

Milwaukee's Braves nipped the Chicago Cubs 1-0 as Chet Nichols outthrewed Howie Pollet in a southpaw duel. Danny O'Connell's seventh-inning single followed by Jim Pendleton's double accounted for the lone run.

Peanuts Lowrey's pinch single with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th gave the St. Louis Cardinals their second straight victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs, 5-4. Rain washed out the scheduled twelfth-inning double-header between Pittsburgh and the Phillies in Philadelphia. Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics were not scheduled.

The Yankees enjoyed their most productive day of the season, pounding four Boston pitchers for 17 hits in a game that was halted in the eighth inning by rain. Yogi Berra drove in five runs with a triple and homer and Irv Noren whacked four hits in five times at bat.

The Indians combined three hits, a sacrifice fly and four walks by Bob Turley to score all their runs in the second inning as Mike Garcia registered his 11th triumph. Bobby Avila's two-run double was the key blow.

The White Sox smashed 16 hits, including a home run by Ron Jackson, the 6-foot-7 20-year-old bonus first baseman.

Bill Tuttle, rookie outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, attended Bradley University for three and a half years.

Wilmington's Bill Current Bids For Hilliards Honors

COLUMBUS (AP)—Bill Current of Wilmington drove Tower Light to win in both heats of the featured Home Talent Colt Stake last night at Hilliards Raceway.

Current's double win in the third and sixth race boosted his point total to 99, only two behind top driver William (Doc) McMillen of London.

The wise old sulky master from London failed to win a heat last night. Best McMillen could do was place third with Worldly Ensign behind Current in both heats of the Colt Stake.

Tower Light paid $4.40 in the third and $2.60 in the sixth, both mile events for two-year-old pacers. Purses were $500 for each. Winning times were 2:23 and 2:19 4-5.

Two Circleville drivers entered the winner's circle last night. Forrest Short drove Kelley McWin to victory in the Class 24 Pace with a clocking of 2:17 4-5. And in the Class 23 Pace, Merle Thornton wheeled his Dale Chief to a win in 2:14 4-5.

The summary:
First race, classified C Trot, 1½ miles, $400—Bob Springwood (J. James), $11.20, 5.20, 3.80; Flash Man (R. Anderson), 6.80, 4.20; Seamps Will (W. Roush), 3.00. Time, 2:39 2-5.

Second, Class 24 Conditioned pace, 1 mile, $400—Our Widower (C. Snook), $11.20, 5.20, 3.80; Chris Averill (J. Morgan), 5.60, 3.20; George Logan (D. Brown), 4.00. Time, 2:17 4-5.

Daily double, $43.40.

Garringer (no card); Mrs. Scott Harner 44; Mrs. J. E. Dabe 47; Mrs. James Martin 49 and Mrs. Mary Sparks 47.

After the morning of golf, the women gathered in the club house for lunch and remained for an afternoon of bridge and sociability.

The annual Women's Invitational Tournament is scheduled for the Country Club here next Wednesday Between 80 and 100 golfers from this section of the state are expected to participate.

Lowrey Haunts Redlegs In Card Victory

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Peanuts Lowrey, who was traded away by Cincinnati a few years ago, rose up last night to haunt the Redlegs.

Lowrey, nearing the end of a long career, blasted a based-loaded pinch hit single in the 11th inning that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-4 victory over the Reds.

It also wrecked some beautiful clutch pitching by Art Fowler. The Cards had filled the bases with none out on Stan Musial's double, an intentional walk to Ray Jablonski and an infield single by Rip Repuls.

Fowler then started hearing down. He grabbed Joe Cunningham's tap and nailed Musial at the plate. He leaped high in the air and took Bill Sarni's boulder and caught Jablonski at home. It looked as if he might be out of the woods but then came Lowrey and his fatal single.

The result was that the Redlegs dropped 2½ games behind fourth place Milwaukee and they're now only a game ahead of the sixth place Cards.

The teams wind up their series tonight with Joe Nuxhall slated to pitch against Harvey Haddix.

Starter Fred Baczewski was removed in the third because of a pulled muscle in his pitching arm. Later, it was indicated the injury wasn't serious and that Baczewski would be able to take his regular turn on the mound.

Newport Dream May Miss Stake

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—Newport Dream, early favorite for the $115,000 Hambletonian, has a mystery ailment that might keep him out of the famous trotting classic here next month, trainer-driver Del Cameron said today.

Philly Chiefs Eye Future Of Athletics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 75 top leaders in Philadelphia meet with Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. today to plot the future of American League baseball in the city where the Philadelphia Athletics once were synonymous with championship teams.

Meanwhile, interest among Philadelphia baseball fans stirred as the Athletics prepared to open a 17-game home stand.

It was reported that advance ticket sales have picked up considerably over the last few days.

"One of our games with Cleveland has attracted such an advance that indications are we'll have as big a crowd as we did on opening day," a club spokesman said. A crowd of 16,331 turned out to see the A's beat Boston 6-4 April 13.

"Understand, it is rather late to build high hopes around advance sales," the spokesman added, "but if tickets had gone all season the way they have in the past few days, we would not be faced with such a problem now."

Roy and Earle Mack have been quoted as telling Clark, in an appeal for help from the city, that unless the A's can draw 400,000 fans in remaining home games, the franchise will be moved or sold.

It is understood that the Macks told Clark that several cities, including Minneapolis, Dallas, Kansas City and Houston, were after the A's franchise.

Giardello Bruised In Chalking Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello nursed a sore left side of his face today but to ease his pain the Philadelphia middleweight had a nice fat check and a victory that kept him in line for a title fight.

The 23-year-old Giardello tuned up last night for an expected 160-pound title shot in October by lam-
